PENNSAUKEN POOL IS OPEN FOR THE SEASON!

'Biggest season in history' — Bruno Landers, Owner, Pennsauken Pool

This week marks the seventieth season of the 'Pennsauken Pool'. According to owner Bruno Landers, it promises to be the busiest ever.

Mister Landers purchased the pool from its prior owner, Theodore Roosevelt's cousin and local fact-fucker Langstrom Edwards in 1967. Mister Edwards had fallen in debt from a rampant cocaine habit — something he encouraged all his neerdowell employees to do.

"Biggest season in history. That is what this year is going to be." Bruno Landers shouted from the rooftop down at us as he rapidly tried to fix a leak in the rapidly aging snack bar. "Big. Biggest fucking season. Biggest you ever seen. Biggest I ever seen. Absolutely huge."

The wood-paneled pool snackbar was once a mortuary specifically for the native population and was maintained as such until 1914 when most of it burned down because of a curse and because someone was sleeping in a casket with a lit cigarette.

Whitmoore has hit gold with Aquabeam.

Earlier this month, Whitmoore Chemical Co. released its new line of sunscreen — Aquabeam. Available now in SPF 80+, this 'No-Show Lotion' has taken the city of Pennsauken by storm.

"It doesn't even smell like my mother's old,

Since then, Uncle Bruno — a nickname which Mister Landers demands everyone call him — has been keeping the place updated with all the latest advances in snack and pool-related accoutrement. "You like Galaga? Bitch I got so many fucking Galaga machines you will shit yourself from playing Galaga in my pool bar. And pinball and hotdecrepit asshole!" sunlight enthusiast Darryl "Mothboy" Mungus spoke to our news crew outside of the new 7-11 off Westfield Ave — a popular place to purchase this new product. "Goes on smooth like butter. Can't even tell you're wearing it."

dogs and shit."

As is tradition, flavorful locals always show up for the first of the season. When asked for comment, Bobby Ray, Owner of Bobby Ray's Pennsauken Tavern, had this to say: "Biggest fucking pool I ever fucking seen, right here. This fucking pool? I made out in it with Darlene my first wife and Marlene my second

This new product was produced by local scientists — the smartest minds New Jersey has to offer.

When asked for comment, company representative Lou Greghorn suggested we just go buy some fucking product already. ■ — at the same time." Mister Ray then hooted a loud hoot and leapt into the water with a lit cigarette and half a Coors Light in his hand. He came back up without losing either, then hooted again.

Not all are fans of the new pool. Neighborhood cunt Shannon Davis McCrae complained loudly from the front porch of her single-wide trailer. "If them fuckin' indian's ghosts came back and fuckin' haunted that watering hole, sneaking up peoples assholes while they swam around playin' Marco Polo all the fucking time, well, t'wouldn't bother me a nights sleep." In between drags of her Virginia Slims, Miss McCrae spit chaw into a nearby spitoon that her latest baby held in its arms.

Mayor of Pennsauken Wilbur Brotherton attended day one. He remembers going to Pennsauken Pool for the summer as a child — "I 'member it." He says it has become a local hotspot, a cultural icon for the city of Pennsauken. "I says it."

Whether it's the food or the ice cold beer, Pennsauken pool is the absolute shits tit. There is no evidence that the party will ever stop at our local
